Letter of Recommendation Guidelines

Your letter of recommendation is a vital part of assessing the applicant’s suitability for the Graduate Program in Aboriginal Business and Leadership. It is recommended that you base your evaluation of the applicant on the factors listed below:

1. The intellectual capacity and maturity of judgment to complete a program of graduate study.

2. The ability to undertake the Graduate Program in Aboriginal Business and Leadership in addition to present or contemplated job requirements.

3. The drive and stamina necessary for sustaining a commitment to this course of study.

4. The extent to which family, colleagues, and employer are likely to be supportive of this undertaking.

Please address and send your letter to:
Mark Selman
Director, Graduate Program in Aboriginal Business and Leadership

Protection of Privacy Collection Notice

The information received from referees is collected under general authority of the University Act (R.S.B.C. 1996, c. 468, s.27(4)(2))) and is needed to assess qualifications and decide on the applicant’s eligibility for admission to the Graduate Program in Aboriginal Business and Leadership. If you have any questions about the collection and use of this information, please write to the address above.

The British Columbia Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy Act allows an applicant to have access to the information contained in his/her letters of reference where that can be done without disclosing the identities of the referees who supply a reference in confidence. It is understood between Simon Fraser University and the referee that your reference is supplied in confidence unless you state otherwise.
