With a typical class of just 50 students, the SFU Beedie MBA learning experience lets you discover your strengths and take risks in a supportive environment.

You’ll have the opportunity to explore your interests, and learn from a diverse international cohort. The small class size facilitates an interactive and applied learning environment, where you’ll work closely with faculty. Your classmates will become invaluable business connections and lifelong friends.

You will graduate with a business management toolkit that applies across industries, providing you with more career options and greater mobility.
12 MONTHS OF ACADEMICS, PLUS A 4-MONTH WORK TERM

You want to take your career to the next level. The SFU Beedie MBA will give you the edge you need to get there. By combining theory and application, the program will give you a strong grounding in business fundamentals.

As you move through the 12-month academic component in the centre of Vancouver’s diverse, vibrant and entrepreneurial business community, expect to become immersed in deep, thought-probing questions and real-world business problems. Instead of memorizing textbooks and taking standardized tests, you’ll learn through interactive and experiential learning methods. At the end of the 12-months of academics, you’ll put your knowledge into practice during the required 4-month work term.

When you graduate, you’ll embark on the next stage of your career equipped with in-demand business skills and a 360-degree view of how businesses operate today.

“The one year MBA program at SFU Beedie not only equipped me with comprehensive knowledge about all aspects of business, but also provided me with the opportunity to do a hands-on internship which boosted my job prospects. The cultural and professional diversity within the cohort made it a joy to collaborate and exchange ideas with people from different backgrounds and different industries”.

— Ayesha Sharma, FT MBA Alumnus, Senior Associate, M&A Advisory at Deloitte
Taking an MBA doesn’t mean leaving the workforce completely. At the end of the 12-months of academics, you’ll have the opportunity to apply what you’ve learned in a real-world setting through the work term requirement.

You can choose between:

• A paid four-month internship: With the support of the Career Management Centre, apply for positions where you can implement your newly acquired skills, knowledge, and fresh ideas.

• Starting your own new venture: Vancouver is Canada’s centre of entrepreneurship. If you’d like to start a new venture or work with innovative start-ups, you couldn’t come to a better place. SFU is home to three innovation labs: Coast Capital Savings Venture Connection®, RADIUS, and VentureLabs®.

• Moving straight into a permanent position: Transition directly into an employment position with your previous or a new employer.

Joshua Viner, FT MBA Alumnus, Regional Director, Vacasa

“The Indigenous Business class in itself was an incredible course but having off site trips as an accompaniment to it was a transformational experience. Going to Musqueam, Squamish and Lil’wat nations helped illustrate to all of us that we were not in a history class. Though indigenous cultures have shaped history, they are shaping the present as well. For me this was the class that completely altered the way I think and the little things I can do to ensure a better future”

- Keegan Dohm, FT MBA Student

The GMCCP focuses on introducing graduate students to the basics of preparing for a case interview. During this program you will be exposed to the case interview format and will practice some of the key skills that need to be mastered in order to be successful during a case interview. The program will focus on structured analysis, logical reasoning and client-focused communication. Topics covered will include how to structure a case interview, mental math, issue trees, interpreting visual information and effective presentations. Guest speakers and consultants will be invited to provide further insight into consulting and case interviews.

ENTREPRENEURSHIP AND SOCIAL INNOVATION

Thinking of starting your own business? You’ve come to the right place. From incubation to acceleration, SFU provides a continuum of resources and support for startups.

Coast Capital Savings Venture Connection® offers early stage start-ups with entrepreneurship training, mentorship and resources to move an initial idea through to validation.

VentureLabs® is a business accelerator focused on structured growth and best practices for growth stage startups.

RADIUS (Radical Ideas Into Useful Solutions) offers validation and growth stage programs for entrepreneurs and ventures looking to help solve pressing social problems. A panel event introducing SFU Beedie students to these innovation hubs happens annually in the Fall.

In alignment with our calling to develop innovative business leaders, SFU Beedie hosts experiential learning events such as a new product development simulation, where students work together in multifunctional teams to design, build and manufacture a drone delivery service. Participating in fun, interactive simulations frames innovation as an organization-wide responsibility and opportunity, and provides awareness of the blurred lines of responsibility that can exist within the innovation sphere.

MENTORS IN BUSINESS

Mentors share their knowledge, experience, and wisdom to help you make informed career choices.

“I was applying for a new job at a large pharmaceutical firm. I knew I had the qualifications but it’s a very competitive industry and I desperately wanted to make it past the initial interview with HR. My mentor coached me through the process: he suggested the types of questions to ask when networking with company representatives; he conducted mock interviews for me, and he encouraged me throughout the entire interview process. I ended up getting my dream job thanks to my mentor’s guidance and support.”

– Sylvana Steinitz, FT MBA Alumnus, Clinical Science Specialist, Sanofi Genzyme

GUEST SPEAKERS

The CMC’s Spotlight on Industry and Careers events aim to give SFU Beedie students access to industry professionals in a small group setting to allow for free-flowing dialogue. The CMC will also support you in your job search by connecting you with employers, job opportunities and additional internships. Morenike Akinyemi was looking for greater mobility early on in her career. After spending two years working as a clinical pharmacist at various Nigerian hospitals and pharmacies, she traveled over 10,000 km to Vancouver from her home in Nigeria to take her career to the next level. Morenike chose the MBA to develop a business management toolkit to go along with her strong clinical skills, and to prep for a successful transition from patient care to the business strategy side of the healthcare industry. Today she leverages her MBA skills, strategic mindset and network at the Provincial Health Services Authority.

Phil VanLaar felt it was time to invest in himself. After spending eight years working as a civil engineer at several top Canadian engineering firms, he was looking to prepare for a successful transition into another industry. He also wanted greater career mobility into upper management. Phil chose the MBA to develop a business management skillset to complement his robust technical experience as well as to broaden his professional connections beyond the civil engineering and construction industry. Today Phil is using his MBA skills in a new career working in management consulting at the Business Development Bank of Canada (BDC).
SFU Beedie MBA students enjoy priority access to SFU’s apartment-style downtown Vancouver residence, which is at the centre of a dynamic living and learning community of entrepreneurship and ideas.
